

Peoplefluent Mobile Talent Management Recognized as a Top Product by Human Resource Executive

Thu, 10/04/2012

Leading HR Technology Company to Demo Latest Mobile and Social Human Capital Management Solutions at HR Technology Conference & Expo 2012 in Chicago

RALEIGH, N.C. and WALTHAM, Mass. – October 3, 2012 – Peoplefluent@, a leading human capital management technology company, today announced that Peoplefluent's Mobile Talent Management Suite has been named a top HR product of 2012 by Human Resource Executive® magazine. Peoplefluent's award-winning talent management software will be on display at the HR Technology® Conference & Exposition, being held at McCormick Place in Chicago, October 8-10, 2012.

"HR professionals, managers and executives need deep access to thoughtful, comprehensive information about their workforce when and where they make daily human capital decisions," said Gerard Murphy, president and chief executive officer, Peoplefluent. "We're committed to delivering the innovation necessary to meet the needs of our customers and the employees they serve. As we continue to enhance our HCM solution with new functionality – including mobile tools, analytics and social capability – recognition by Human Resource Executive is validation that we are targeting our innovation where it's needed in the marketplace."

Human Resource Executive Best Products Recognition

Since debuting at last year's HR Technology® Conference's "Awesome New Technologies for HR", Peoplefluent's now award-winning mobile talent management suite has benefited from strong customer adoption and continued functional expansion. Peoplefluent Mobile Talent Management provides mobile access to core talent management processes, making information about recruiting, compensation, employee performance and leadership development available whenever and wherever the workforce needs to make informed human capital decisions.

"Human Resource Executive® has been evaluating HR products and conducting this competition for 24 years," explained David Shadovitz, editor of Human Resource Executive. "Our goal has always been to identify products and services that clearly offer value to the HR community while demonstrating innovation. Fluency on the Move provides the same intuitive, user-friendly functionality HR professionals come to expect from Peoplefluent talent management solutions delivered on the devices they use every day."

Awesome New Technologies

As a follow-up to last year's debut of its market-leading mobile solutions, Peoplefluent has also added social collaboration to its solution suite, meeting demand for next generation social-enabled HR technology.

Peoplefluent's social HCM software will be included in this year's HR Technology's "Awesome New Technologies for HR" session. This marks the third consecutive year that Peoplefluent's talent management products have been selected for this forum, which features live demonstrations of the year's most innovative, useful new tools for HR professionals.

The “Awesome New Technologies for HR” session is scheduled for Tuesday, October 9, 2012 from 1:45-3 p.m. and is open to full conference attendees.

Throughout HR Tech, Peoplefluent executives will be demonstrating Peoplefluent technologies including social capabilities, workforce analytics and mobile applications at its booths #901 and #1101. The company will also have a daily iPad drawing. To keep tabs on Peoplefluent at HR Tech, follow the company on twitter: @peoplefluent.

About Peoplefluent

Peoplefluent® is the leading provider of talent management software designed to support the entire workforce. We provide the mobile enablement, social collaboration, information visualization and the domain expertise required to empower strategic decision making and true employee engagement. Our talent solutions enable organizations to unlock each individual’s potential by removing the boundaries that limit the performance and productivity of your workforce. With the most comprehensive talent suite in the industry including solutions for talent management, workforce compliance, contingent labor management, analytics and workforce planning, Peoplefluent offers a solution to optimize every step of the talent lifecycle.

Our solutions have helped over 5,100 organizations in 214 countries and territories successfully achieve their talent aspirations. Today, 80% of the Fortune 100 relies on Peoplefluent solutions as part of their talent management delivery strategy.